

Director independence review process

The review of non-executive director independence is conducted annually or more frequently where a change in position or relationship warrants it.

